

Resident: Stoney Stoneking

Stoney was born and raised on a farm about two and a half miles south of Carthage, Illinois. There were seven children in the family. One of them is his sister, Darlene Oyer, who also lives here at Everly. Stoney worked on the farm helping his father out until he got out of school. Then he worked in construction; building houses and other projects up and down the Mississippi from Burlington to Keokuk. He was part of the Labor Local 525 out of Burlington, Iowa. After 22 years of construction he spent another 22 years working at a grocery store in Carthage. Through the years, Stoney's favorite pastimes included playing pool small time gambling, and going out on the town to meet up with friends. Stoney says he likes and gets along well with just about anybody. He seems to fit in very nicely here at Everly. He was even brave enough to tackle Bingo with all of us ladies. Stoney was a good sport about our untraditional ways of playing. Stoney's COPD condition was the initiator for him coming to live here at Everly. He plans to stay for the winter, maybe longer. We welcome him and are very happy he chose to come visit us at the Everly House.
